

The renovation of the Hall of Life at the Raymond M. Alf Museum of Paleontology was only one small step in a journey spanning 75 years. In celebration of this achievement, "Moments in Time: Evolution of a Legacy," is now available as a full-color book chronicling the museum's history. The pages feature photos from the museum's beginnings, as well as a special section on the recent renovation. Museum trustee Terry Baganz volunteered as "photo curator" for this collection, which is now available at this external link .
